Two women arrested on shoplifting, larceny charges

FRAMINGHAM — Police arrested two women at Jordan Marsh last night on charges of shoplifting, larceny of property worth more than $250 and receiving stolen property, police said.

Shonique Reid, 20, of Queens, N.Y., and Tanya Michelle Williams, 21, of Boston were arrested at 6:50 p.m. by Officer Robert Tibor and Jordan Marsh security, police said.

Reid also was charged on a Newton default warrant for shoplifting, police said.

Both women were scheduled to be arraigned in Framingham District Court Friday morning.

Framingham man arrested on indecent assault charge

FRAMINGHAM — A local man was arrested last night on a 1989 Framingham warrant charging him with two counts of indecent assault and battery on a person 14 years older or more, and lewd and lascivious speech or behavior, police said.

Jesus Irizarry, 56, of 176 Irving St., third floor, also was charged on a warrant from the State Police barracks in Foxboro for driving without a license, driving an unregistered and uninsured vehicle, possessing cocaine with intent to distribute and illegally attaching license plates, police said.

Irizarry was arrested at the police station at 10:10 p.m. by Detectives William Delaney and Larry Hendry, and was scheduled to be arraigned in Framingham District Court this morning, police said.

Natick man arrested on motor vehicular charges

NATICK — A local man was arrested after a minor accident last night on charges of driving without a license, police said.

Reginald Cesar, 23, was arrested at the intersection of Worcester Road and Prospect Street at 11:03 a.m., and was scheduled to be arraigned Thursday in Framingham District Court, police said.
